

Subject:
Telemarketing Rulemaking -
Date:
Fri, 29 Mar 2002 22:15:12 -0700
From:
toe@dakotacom.net
To:
tsr@ftc.gov

1- although the national do not call register is a step in the right direction and i would use it myself, I should not have to sign up to not be disturbed. The best solution is simply to make telemarketing ILLEGAL, and then all the consumers would not have to sign up on a registry. Why should those who may not know or be able to sign up be subjected to unwanted telemarketers? I don't know a single person who wants to be called by these intruders.

2-Furthermore, the current rash of mail with very small print just to "opt out" of each and every bill from every agency, utility, government agency, bank, and corporation I have ever had anything to do with is just as bad as the plurality of calls at home. WHY should anyone have to "opt out". That should already be the law. We should have to "opt IN" , that is, give permission to the intruders if they are to be able to send and call and otherwise invade my home. MAKE ALL TELEMARKETING AND SHARING OF MY PERSONAL INFORMATION, SPENDING, BILLS, etc. ILLEGAL to begin with, then I don't have to do ANYTHING. THat should include sharing any information whatsoever with any of the companies affiliates, which, includes just about any other company anyway. They should have to get my permission, not me having to call them to simply limit the number of places they are allowed to give my information to.

Subject:
Telemarketing Rulemaking -
Date:
Fri, 29 Mar 2002 22:15:12 -0700
From:
toe@dakotacom.net
To:

tsr@ftc.gov

1- although the national do not call register is a step in the right direction and i would use it myself, I should not have to sign up to not be disturbed. The best solution is simply to make telemarketing ILLEGAL, and then all the consumers would not have to sign up on a registry. Why should those who may not know or be able to sign up be subjected to unwanted telemarketers? I don't know a single person who wants to be called by these intruders.

2-Furthermore, the current rash of mail with very small print just to "opt out" of each and every bill from every agency, utility, government agency, bank, and corporation I have ever had anything to do with is just as bad as the plurality of calls at home. WHY should anyone have to "opt out". That should already be the law. We should have to "opt IN" , that is, give permission to the intruders if they are to be able to send and call and otherwise invade my home. MAKE ALL TELEMARKETING AND SHARING OF MY PERSONAL INFORMATION, SPENDING, BILLS,etc. ILLEGAL to begin with, then I don't have to do ANYTHING. That should include sharing any information whatsoever with any of the companies affiliates, which, includes just about any other company anyway. They should have to get my permission, not me having to call them to simply limit the number of places they are allowed to give my information to.

1- although the national do not call register is a step in the right direction and i would use it myself, I should not have to sign up to not be disturbed. The best solution is simply to make telemarketing ILLEGAL, and then all the consumers would not have to sign up on a registry. Why should those who may not know or be able to sign up be subjected to unwanted telemarketers? I don't know a single person who wants to be called by these intruders.

2-Furthermore, the current rash of mail with very small print just to "opt out" of each and every bill from every agency, utility, government agency, bank, and corporation I have ever had anything to do with is just as bad as the plurality of calls at home. WHY should anyone have to "opt out". That should already be the law. We should have to "opt IN" , that is, give permission to the intruders if they are to be able to send and call and otherwise invade my home. MAKE ALL TELEMARKETING AND SHARING OF MY PERSONAL INFORMATION, SPENDING, BILLS, etc. ILLEGAL to begin with, then I don't have to do ANYTHING. THAT should include sharing any information whatsoever with any of the companies affiliates, which, includes just about any other company anyway. They should have to get my permission, not me having to call them to simply limit the number of places they are allowed to give my information to.